

Guidelines on Physical Examinations for Students at I-Shou University

Adopted by the University Administration Council on October 20, 2004

Ratified and promulgated by the President on November 1, 2004

- I. The Guidelines on Physical Examinations for Students at I-Shou University (hereinafter referred to as the “Guidelines”) are enacted pursuant to the School Health Act (92-Hua-Zong-Yi-Yi-Tzu No. 09100025070) to ensure good health for students and maintain a healthy environment for learning.
- II. As stipulated by the Act, the University should conduct physical examinations for new enrollees upon enrollment, and document the results. The University may select a qualified medical institution to conduct a group physical examination, or require newly-admitted students to take a physical examination at a hospital at or above the level of Local Hospital. Those who choose the latter are required to submit a physical examination report to the Health Section (hereinafter referred to as the “Section”) upon registration or within one month after the semester begins. The Section will collect all physical examination results and compile statistics, in order to gain a comprehensive understanding of students’ physique and health status; these results will serve as reference for disease prevention and health awareness campaign for the Section.

- III. During their stay at the University, students may be subject to a physical examination sporadically if needed in a bid to ensure students' physical and mental health.
- IV. The Section or the medical institution giving the group examination will mail the results to students and their parents. In case of abnormalities, affected students will be urged to receive health education at the Section, or take a re-examination at a medical institution as soon as possible. In the cases of critical illness, the Section will have the affected student's advisor, military training instructor and physical education teacher pay close attention to the student.
- V. The University is obliged to report to adequate education authorities and local health agencies without delay in cases of statutory infectious diseases were found on campus.
- VI. The Section organizes campaigns with health authorities for infectious disease control and prevention in every academic year depending on seasons and actual needs.
- VII. The University should hire certified physicians to offer healthcare counseling services.
- VIII. Students who still fail to submit their physical examination reports after having received a written notice for three times in one year will be punished pursuant to Paragraph 14 of Article 7 in the Regulations for Student Rewards and Punishments at I-Shou University (one warning or four hours of campus services). Moreover, the University should continue to issue an urgent notice to the students for the reports during their stay at the University.

- IX. The Guidelines become effective on the date of promulgation upon adoption by the University Administration Council and ratification by the President. The same procedure applies to any amendment to the Guidelines.

Note: In the event of any disputes or misunderstanding as to the interpretation of the language or terms of these Guidelines, the Chinese language version shall prevail.
